SHIP FIRED ON WHILE SINKING

Submarine Shells Vessels as Passengers Disembark

Seventy-one Persons Go to Bottom; Warships Rescue Others

Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 18.—Seventy-one persons lost their lives when the French steamship Amiral-Hamelin was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine. A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Marseilles, which brings this news, does not specify whether the victims were passengers or members of the crew.

A Paris dispatch sent early Sunday morning said that the steamer Isouhan had arrived at Marseilles from Madagascar, having on board Captain Guibert and the crew of the steamship Amiral which was recently sunk by a submarine. Probably this is the same vessel referred to in the more recent dispatches from Marseilles. It is not stated when and where the steamer was sunk.

Amiral-Hamelin was a vessel of 5037 tons gross, built in 1902. She was 387 feet long and forty-five feet beam. Her owners were Chargeurs Reunis a Paris, of Havre.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—The Marseilles correspondent of the Petit Journal telegraphs that the mail boat Eugene Pereire has arrived there with thirty-three members of the crew of the French steamship Amiral-Hamelin, which was sunk by a submarine. A previous report from the Havas correspondent said that seventy-one persons on board the steamer lost their lives.

The Amiral-Hamelin was under government requisition. According to the Petit Journal correspondent, she was torpedoed by an Austrian submarine without notice, and while passengers and crew were being transferred to the boats the submarine bombarded the steamer, which was struck by forty shells.

The captain of the submarine asserted as justification of his attack that the steamer was armed, but this is denied by the correspondent. Six of the crew were wounded by the bombardment. The sound of firing drew a French torpedo boat and an English hospital ship to the spot and the wounded and many fugitives were taken aboard by these vessels. The submarine fled at their approach after firing two torpedoes into the Amiral and sinking her.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A large German torpedo boat was run down and cut in two by a German steam ferry which left Trelleborg, Sweden, at 8 o'clock Friday night with all lights out, says a Reuter dispatch from Malmö, Sweden. Only five of the torpedo boat's crew of forty-five were saved.

Serbs Holding Line Against Bulgarians

Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 18, 4:45 p. m.—The entire Serbian line on the Bulgarian front is being held against the invaders, notwithstanding the superiority of the Bulgarian forces, according to a dispatch to the Temps from Nish under date of October 16. It is declared that the Bulgarian army at Vlassina has been scattered. "The battle continues along the whole front," says the dispatch. "Detachments of Serbs at Obravatz on the Save river withdrew toward the south-east in the direction of Lazaratz to escape the fire of the enemy's artillery."

"The Serbs continue to hold positions outside of Belgrade, dominating the valley of the Save.

"The Serbs have evacuated Pozarevac so as to avoid a turning movement of their adversaries."

Noted Airman Executed in London, Reported

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 18.—Graham White, world famous aviator, is reported to have been shot as a German spy in London Tower and his wife is under a 30-year sentence as an accomplice, according to a letter received by John Conister, from his sister, a Winnipeg girl, who is now nursing in a London military hospital.

The letter says the report is generally believed in London. Before their trial the papers were full of details, but nothing has been heard of them since. Graham White was of German descent and his wife was German born and bred. The British government has refused to give out the name of the man executed or of the woman sent to jail.

Will Power Keeps Man Alive for 100 Years

Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Oct. 18.—William Wallace Spence, for many years a financier of this city, is celebrating today the one hundredth anniversary of his birth.

Spence was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, it took him 70 days to cross from Scotland to the United States in 1821. For years Spence has expressed the determination to live to be 100 years, and the fact that he has done so is attributed largely to his iron will.

Charlton Takes Stand in Trial Presents Slain Wife as Irrational

LAKE COMO, Oct. 18.—Porter Charlton, an American, went to trial today for the murder of his wife more than five years ago. The alleged murderer's wife was Mary Scott Castle, a divorcee, formerly of San Francisco.

Charlton took the stand today in his own defense. He presented his wife as an extremely irrational woman, highly excitable, dissolute and insanely jealous. This was the foundation, he asserted, for the maddening jealousy that possessed him on the night of June 3, 1910, when he returned home suddenly, found her about to leave the house, and suspecting another man had entered her affections, beat her to death with a wooden mallet.

Baron Schmid, president of the trial, overruled a motion to dismiss the murder indictment and rejected a request for further postponement of the case because Attorney Picardi, chief of counsel for Charlton, is sick and desired to recover before the case proceeded.

Charlton took the stand at 10:30 o'clock. He had been on the verge of a collapse for several days and was visibly worn at the beginning of the intercession. At the examination proceeded, however, he recovered his nerve and showed no agitation when the indictment was read.

The prisoner is the son of former Judge Paul Charlton. He was 21 years old when the murder was committed. The body of Mrs. Charlton was found in a trunk in Lake Como. He fled and was arrested at Hoboken, remaining in jail for three years before he was extradited. Mrs. Charlton was twenty years his senior.

Charlton plans to tell the story of the crime and the extenuating events that led up to it to the jury that will decide his fate.

Charlton is to be tried on November 10.

LARGE SUM MISSED BY THIEVES

Robbers Open Safe Designed to Resist for Three Days

Four Men in Car Are Believed to Have Been Gang

Automobile bandits worked the combination of a safe in the San Ramon Valley Bank at Danville, Contra Costa county, early today and carried off $5000 in gold and currency. They left $4000 in gold and silver in the open safe.

The robbery was not discovered until the bank was opened for business today. The safe was left open, in its usual position under an electric light, in plain view from the street. The light was turned on.

Four men were reported to have been seen driving rapidly out of town in an automobile early today, but F. A. Marshall, manager of the bank, said there was no other clew to the robbers.

Marshall said the safe was a type on which the combination was guaranteed to resist the ingenuity of a robber for three days. Rewards of $100 for the arrest of each robber were offered.

Besides the big sum in gold the other articles missing from the bank this morning was the coat of one of the bank employees.

WHEELS GIVE CLEW.

The marks of automobile wheels leading past the bank indicated that the robbers employed this means to make a hasty get-away. Several residents say they heard automobiles stopping and starting during the night. No sounds which would lead to suspicion being aroused of anything untoward happening were, however, heard.

Sheriff R. R. Veal and detectives from the California Bankers' Association are investigating the robbery and a reward for the apprehension of the robbers has been offered by the association. The bank's loss is covered by insurance. N. S. Boone is the president.

"There is no doubt that those who entered the safe must have thoroughly mastered the working of the combination locks," explained one of the bank's officers. "Suspicious characters were seen in the vicinity of the bank for the past few days, but we had not the slightest indication that the bank was in danger of a raid," said Karr.

TIME LOCK SET.

"The bank was closed at the usual hour last evening and the time lock was set for a certain time this morning. The strange thing is that the safe bore no marks of having been touched and that everything appeared normal until we opened the door this morning. All but $50 of the $5000 stolen was in gold. The remaining $50 was in currency. But the robbers must have worked right through the door," said Karr.

More arrests may be made here, it is hinted.

"TRAINED" ASSISTANT.

That the distribution of the fortune in bogus $5 pieces, declared to exceed $100,000, was accomplished through a perfectly trained organization of accomplices, is the conclusion of the detective.

Karr is being held by the federal authorities across the bay, after having been brought here from Ohio. York, arrested at Salt Lake City, has not been brought here yet, owing to legal tangles over the resignation of a district judge there. It may be several days before he is extradited.

More arrests may be made here, it is hinted.

Charlton Has Cash for Recount, He Reports

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz will have to pay $200 cash in the hands of the clerk of Judge Crothers' court every evening to pay the expenses of the recount in the event that the court awards his request for a delay of three days.

The court denied also the request that Schmitz be permitted to leave the county long enough to attend the funeral of James Ralph Jr., next Thursday.

This morning Attorney Harry Stafford, representing Schmitz, asked that Mayor Holt be made to file his answer sooner than the three days the law allows him. Judge Crothers declined to do this but ordered that the answer be filed at 8 a.m. Thursday, when he will listen to arguments on the law involved.

He should decide in favor of Schmitz. The recount will begin at 2 p. m. The contested ballot will be counted first, election clerks being used to expedite the counting.

The court denied also the request that Schmitz be permitted to leave the county long enough to attend the funeral of James Ralph Jr., next Thursday.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—The trial of Matthew A. Schmidt, accused of the murder of Charles Hangerty, one of the twenty men killed by the bomb which blew up the Los Angeles Times building five years ago, was postponed today until next Monday, October 25, on account of the sudden death last Friday of Chas. H. Fairall, Schmidt's chief counsel.

Funeral services, largely attended by members of the bar, were held for Mr. Fairall this afternoon. Later the bar was created and the ashes will be taken into custody in San Francisco, after a two-day search by the police of all the bar cities.

Robbery Theory Scouted by Investigators of Moore
Case.

Revenge, and not robbery, is believed to be the motive of the attorney's and his wife's efforts to find their son, Edward Moore, at a tea room center of New York, and to bring him to safety. It was found near Niles last Friday morning that the officers are now working on the theory that Moore was murdered by an enemy for purely revengeful reasons.

Moore, it was said, started a trouble with a number of men several weeks ago because of attractions which were being paid to his wife, Mrs. Willie Moore, Samuel J. Moore, who was arrested on the Oakland police following a disturbance at the Moore home, is now under arrest in Co. L. in charge of having murdered Edward.

TWO MEN ARRESTED.

Mrs. Moore and Edward A. Ellis, another negro, who were taken into custody shortly after the murder, were released yesterday, although the authorities had nothing to do with them. Both Mrs. Moore's story of the events which caused her husband to leave his home Tuesday evening, was told to the officers over the telephone for the purpose of purchasing a horse from a man named McClaire. She said that he had $79 on his person, a valuable gold watch and a costly gold pin. The watch and its case were found in the saddlebag of the sheriff's deputies declare that they have learned that Moore did not take a large sum of money with him when he left home. The sum of 20 cents was found in his pockets.

THROAT SLASHED.

Another fact which has convinced the authorities that revenge was the motive for the murder is that the negro's throat was slashed and mutilated after he had died from the effects of two bullet wounds in his chest. Deputy District Attorney Myron A. Harlan is at Niles today investigating new leads.

Resinol Soap clears bad complexions

If you want a clear, fresh, glowing complexion, use Resinol Soap at least once a day. Work a warm, creamy lather of it well into the pores, then rinse the face with plenty of cold water.

It does not take many days of such regular care with Resinol Soap to show an improvement, because the Resinol medication seepes and refreshes the skin, while the pure soap, free of alkali, is cleansing it.

The skin is in a very neglected condition, with pimples, blackheads, redness or roughness, spread over a little Red Oil cream, or after months before using Resinol Soap.

Resinol Soap is not artificially colored, its rich brown being entirely due to the Resinol medicated oil contained. Twenty-five cents at all drug stores, dealers in toilet goods, and the remainder of the appointments will be made Wednesday.

PARIS, Oct. 18, 2:40 p.m.—French forces repulsed completely last night three German attacks, according to the announcement given out this afternoon by the French war office. These took place at Bois-En-Hache in the northeast of Souchez. The text of the communication follows:

"Three new attacks on the part of the enemy against our positions at Bois-En-Hache, to the northeast of Souchez, were completely checked last night by curtains of fire in which both artillery and infantry participated."

To the south of the River Somme in the sector of Labours, there has been almost continual fighting with trench weapons, while in the meantime our batteries directed an effective fire against the German works.

To the north of Verdun German forces have endeavored to occupy the craters of certain mines recently exploded between the lines. They have been repulsed everywhere.

Last night witnessed very spirited infantry fire between the trenches in the vicinity of Nomemy. Our artillery in the same region has dispersed groups of pioneers of the enemy, particularly to the east of Ephy and near Gremecy and Bioncourt, and it has also bombarded the railroad station at Blamont."

ARTHENE IS

MODERNn's Daughter Thinks That

and Better.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 18.—The true meaning of the University, the annual masque of the students which is becoming to the breadth of the country, dedicated to a spirit of modernity, but not to a spirit of decadence, to restore to the campus more of the glamor and intent of the production of the past. The questions asked of the student this morning by Miss Anna Barrows, student and daughter of Dean P. Barrows, have started a spirited discussion, or at least a movement of compromise for complete revision of the symbolic fete, that it may not, to the taste of plain dramatics and it may become more than ever a true California achievement. The questions made in this morning's California admit the sincerest purpose and artistic merit of recent fêtes, but imply criticism on the fact that too much emphasis has been placed on the aesthetic and dramatic efforts to the detriment of the avowed—the transition from girlhood to manhood.

VIEWS GENERAL

The Editor of the Californian: "The choice of another party, made any preparation giving the question a new turn again the question. Is the Parthenon meaning what it should mean, how can it be made to fit its more fully? As it was originally meant to be a gorgeous que, symbol of the transition of maidenhood to womanhood, it is to be loved and honored and venerated by them. But although each an equally wonderful Parthenon have been written, the spirit which the men have toward it has been lost in the first production. It seems that the real purpose

PRODUCED LESS OFTEN.

If it did not mean more, if the Parthenon came less often, they came less frequently, and the more often it is of a thing, the more good it is, the less it seems to one. The bi-annual Parthenon would be welcomed with enthusiasm, but either it would mean that the burdens managing it would fall on the men less frequently and it would be more finished production, and with the idea of a kind, that would be the Parthenon next year's more enthusiastically—no more interest be shown?" ANNA BARROWS.

League Leaders Are Making
Sorry Showing as Com-

(By BILLY FITZ)
Standing round like a fly in a bowl of mush, the San Francisco ball club still needs one more victory in order to clinch the 1915 pennant. The club has made a score showing in the last two weeks, and half the edge of victory will be taken off by the gallant Bees which the Salt Lake club has been carrying.

In order for the Seals to lose out, it will be necessary for the Oaks to win every one of the seven remaining games.

Klein, however, matched to three in one of the best inter-club meets ever witnessed upon the local courts. The closeness of the contest is evident from the fact that in all the fifteen matches were three-set affairs.

CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED.

President Wilson's campaign for re-election may be said to be definitely, if discreetly, launched. Secretary McAdoo has started upon a tour of the country which will take him through the Northwest, down the Pacific Coast and, in a grand sweep, through Texas and the other Southern States, back to Washington. Mr. McAdoo's avowed object is personally to inspect the needs of several cities and towns for new post-office and other Federal buildings. More than the usual crop of Congressional schemes for "something for the constituency" is promised this winter. In fact, several bills were introduced at the last session of Congress which did not bear fruit and which will boil up again in December, along with the new projects. The Treasury Department has found, by referring to its books, that some of the towns for which a new and costly Federal building is urged do not yield more than twelve hundred dollars in postal revenues a year and someone has suggested that the government might still manage to get along with the postoffice housed in rented quarters which cost only five or six hundred a year. All the postal inspectors, postmasters and other subordinates being busy with other matters, Mr. McAdoo, so he says, has decided to find out whether the economic expediency shown by the records is soundly based.

He got only as far as Indianapolis, Indiana, however, before he began to expatiate upon the accomplishments of the Wilson administration. The conduct of international affairs, including the German crisis, and the Federal Reserve Bank have served as fitting subjects so far. The government merchant marine project and the belated conversion of Mr. Wilson to the policy of national preparedness have also been noted, although no credit was given public sentiment for forcing the national administration to heed the popular demand. Mr. Wilson's "think of America first" speech the other day was made to synchronise beautifully with Mr. McAdoo's dutiful appreciation.

The Democratic leaders confess that Mr. Wilson is running far ahead of his party at present, and there seems a disposition to carry out a quiet diplomatic campaign. Many issues will remain undebated, if the campaign managers can so arrange it, on the ground of international policy. If praise of alleged virtues can be made to serve all purposes, praise of virtues will be the rule. In a campaign marked by such political diplomacy the needs of constituencies for a Federal building assume considerable importance, of course. That small town whose population responds in loud and gratifying chorus to the resume of the President's virtues will doubtless find applied to it a different standard of economy in postal administration from that imposed upon the community that shows a disposition to look farther and upon the menace Democratic policies hold for national prosperity. Mr. McAdoo's inspection tour will be watched with deep interest.

THE WEEK OF WAR—A LESSON.

Important as they were the purely military events of the past week of war have been equalled in importance, vivacity and interest by the political developments. First in this latter class is the up-springing in both France and England of a strong sentiment antagonistic to the leading cabinet officers—the secretaries for foreign affairs. This is traced directly to the failure of the allies' diplomats in the Balkan negotiations, through which Bulgaria became an active ally of Germany and Austria-Hungary. The French Foreign Minister, M. Delcasse, resigned, and the criticism against Sir Edward Grey was so keen that he felt called upon to explain in a speech in Parliament just what had been attempted and what had been done. His statement contained little else. It did not explain the reasons for failure in the frankest manner possible.

The allies entered the negotiations to keep the Balkan nations together as a neutral barrier between Germany and Turkey in the face of great difficulties. As to meeting Bulgaria's specific demands it was impossible to promise Turkish territory except as qualified by the fortunes of war. Rumania was difficult to deal with, and Serbia, who had been the first to enter the war and had fought most valiantly, felt it was not proper to ask her to cede away any of her domain. At the same time Germany and Austria made their counter offers and Czar Ferdinand, impressed with the prospects of Teutonic success and frankly anxious to be on the side of victory, broke off negotiations and evaded Serbia. Confronted with such conditions success for allied projects was impossible. The English critics of their government are short-sighted indeed and are losing their traditional calmness of pose if they fail to realize that failure was foreordained.

The entrance of Bulgaria into the war developed another important theater of military activities in which the advantages so far seem to rest with the central powers. Failure of diplomacy in the Balkans and failure to make noteworthy progress in either the Eastern or Western campaigns and in the efforts to force the Dardanelles have apparently led a large number of the English and French people to assume something is radically wrong.

The British censorship of news and partisan critics have led them into this state of mind. In time they will learn that they are merely suffering from the natural and inevitable weakness of a condition as compared to a unit. The forces of Germany, Austria and Turkey are working as one unit. All is under the direction of the German general staff. The military machine is able to show a hundred per cent efficiency, with the extra advantage of smaller areas and superior communications with the source of supplies.

The condition of the allies has not been able to show more than perhaps 10 or 20 per cent "unit" efficiency. Its characteristic ineffectiveness is accentuated by the several interests each of the powers acting in concert is forced to guard. It is well enough for the staff officers of England, France, Russia and Italy to visit each other and hold conferences. But they will never reach the maximum of performance until they adopt the more efficient single unit system. There are many obstacles to such a system, and these explain why the French and English masses cannot understand why England has not accomplished more with the three million men she has put into service. England's special interests could not permit all these men to be sent into Northern France. The English staff must look to other things—the Dardanelles campaign, the ambitious but fruitless expedition through Persia, the control of Egypt and the guarding of the home shores against possible invasion. Likewise Russia was impressed with the necessity of sending a part of her forces into the Caucasus instead of massing them in Poland and Galicia. Italy, instead of sending her entire strength to the Austrian frontier, must guard against other emergencies. France alone has been able to work with the highest potential efficiency, yet some of her troops have been diverted to the Dardanelles.

Disregard of these conditions have led many observers to rely too much on the belief that the superior numbers of the allies meant a preponderant advantage over the enemy. The most important lesson of the war is the confirmation of the lesson—history has taught it a hundred times—of the inherent weakness of coalition, of divided authority attempting to work in concert. Successful full and successful warfare demand one hundred per cent efficiency. Warfare shows the relentlessness of the rule immediately.

We have a hint of an inevitable social conflict to follow the war. Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, president of the Women's Political Union, just returned from Europe, has discovered "opposition to suffrage in England from the labor trades, especially from workers who resent the taking of their places by women." Mrs. Blatch believes, however, that France and England will, at the end of the war, be ready to grant woman suffrage in consideration of the part women have played in the great conflict. One thing is certain, namely, the women, having extended their sphere of activities during the war, will not willingly or easily be pushed back upon the old scheme of more limited activities. Men, as Mrs. Blatch observes, returning from the war will be resentful upon finding their places taken by women and their livelihood gone. The trades unions may be expected to take up the cause of the men as against the women. Here are the elements of something like a social conflagration. It will be interesting to observe the outcome.

Rev. Van Horn is, we believe, the first man of the cloth to employ the automobile as a means of grace. While other pulpits declaim against the "machine" as an enemy to churchgoing, Mr. Van Horn has taken the other tack of using it to bring shut-ins to his church. "Automobile Day" at the First Congregational church yesterday was a notable success, but whether the movement may be made to carry through, as the golfers say, remains to be demonstrated. We trust it will not be thought impious to question what would have happened if the shut-ins, invited to ride yesterday, had been permitted to choose whether they should go to church or make the round through Dublin Canyon to Mount Diablo and back over the Skyline Boulevard?

It is worth notice that one out of seven of the girls attending the University of California are working their way through college. The occupations in which they find employment are multifarious. They range all the way from tutoring and reading to invalids to the homelier duties of domestic work. The ambition and the energy which inspires this devotion to education cannot fail to work out in the double benefit of character and achievement.

Controlling conditions in economic questions is dissipated by a change in phrasing or by an effort of the imagination. Promise can always eclipse performance. Performance never will equal irresponsible promise or prediction. Every one knows the fate of him who tells the first fish story. The past shows us that better social conditions are but evolutions and have ever closely coincided with material progress. Whether or not material progress is the cause or only a potent influence may be debatable, but history seems to indicate that it is the advance agent. Individual action is the most unsettling factor in human progress; it fluctuates between the extremes of reaction and imperfection. It is controlled and influenced by habit, education, environment, temperament and passion; always generous and noble when influenced by known suffering. It may be absolutely selfish when influenced by material possession or individual comfort. There is a vast difference in opinion as to what are the actualities; there are few mental visions capable of "vision" of various individuals under sum-taking that comprehensive view of the star influences. What course of action individuals will take under any given whole field essential to success in social condition, or any given influence, it is impossible to say.

There is a vast difference of opinion as to what is or what will be—which appeal to human generosity or selfishness—are apt to be more controlling than any presentation of facts which may be implemented and obstructive. Obstructive conditions must be overcome by effort, hypothetical difficulties can be taken into account, for it explains

Against Holidays.
We had a holiday Tuesday and no one knew what it was for. In old Mexico every other day is a holiday and the natives religiously endeavor to observe them all. This is perhaps all right in sleepy old Mexico, but in wide-awake and stirring America it is all wrong. Californians should vigorously put their foot down on any more attempts to create these disturbers of business conditions and hang the first man who has the temerity to suggest another legal holiday.—Bedding Searchlight.

Want One Chance Left.
"If the non-partisan amendment is adopted the people of California will be virtually helpless to oust the Johnson state machine, no matter how much they desire it, for no effective opposition could be organized to successfully combat an office-holding organization except on partisan lines. THE CALLING.

Leaf, leaf,
Your mother is calling you!
The old earth mother.
The brown earth mother.
Is calling, calling you!

Out of her heart you came.
Little green leaves in spring,
Opening, whispering.
Sap high, bought free.
Every branch of every tree
Was hammered gallantly.
Singing birds built nests.
Little winds drifted through.

Leaf, leaf, don't you hear?
Your mother is calling you!

Scarlet leaf of the maple tree,
The dogwood and the barberry.
Yellow of poplar; stiff and tall,
Fall! Fall!

She will take you into her heart again,

Crucible of the wind and rain.

Out of her heart she will renew

Green leaves when spring comes calling

America's Shortcomings.

Today North America's supplantation is imposed; it does not result from effort, nor from the initiative and the conjunction of advantages acquired in competition with other clients of the Argentine Republic, temporarily incapacitated from trading in our markets. • • • The North Americans are in the exceptional situation of being able to establish exclusive and arbitrary conditions, and this abnormal state of affairs might induce them to believe that they have no occasion to sharpen their judgment and to conquer commercial aptitudes in order to obtain definitely the positions they have obtained through the European combination.

This situation will be neither lasting nor tenable unless they modify their systems of sale, manufacture and supply, conforming to reciprocal conveniences which will fit them to compete on equal terms with their rivals, when these resume their normal operations. • • •

To suppose that the boom and the accidental conditions under which they are now replacing the countries at war will continue after the disappearance of this abnormal situation would be to fall into disconcerting error or negligence, which would inevitably condemn them to be ousted. Mr. Roosevelt and other statesmen and financiers have declared that American trade lacks that aptitude for expansion which involves patience, observation and investigation in the export markets, being accustomed to and impregnated by an arbitrary financial dominion, which, working in its own home sphere, has produced results but which, away from that sphere and exposed to the war of prices and conditions imposed by international competition, is found deficient in virtue and efficiency.

THE ANTI-TIPPER.

Dr. William Lynd Stevenson, president of the Anti-Tipping League of Idaho, said at a league banquet in Boise.

"I visited New York last month. I put up at a fine hotel there—$2 a day, in fact, for room and bath. But what service?"

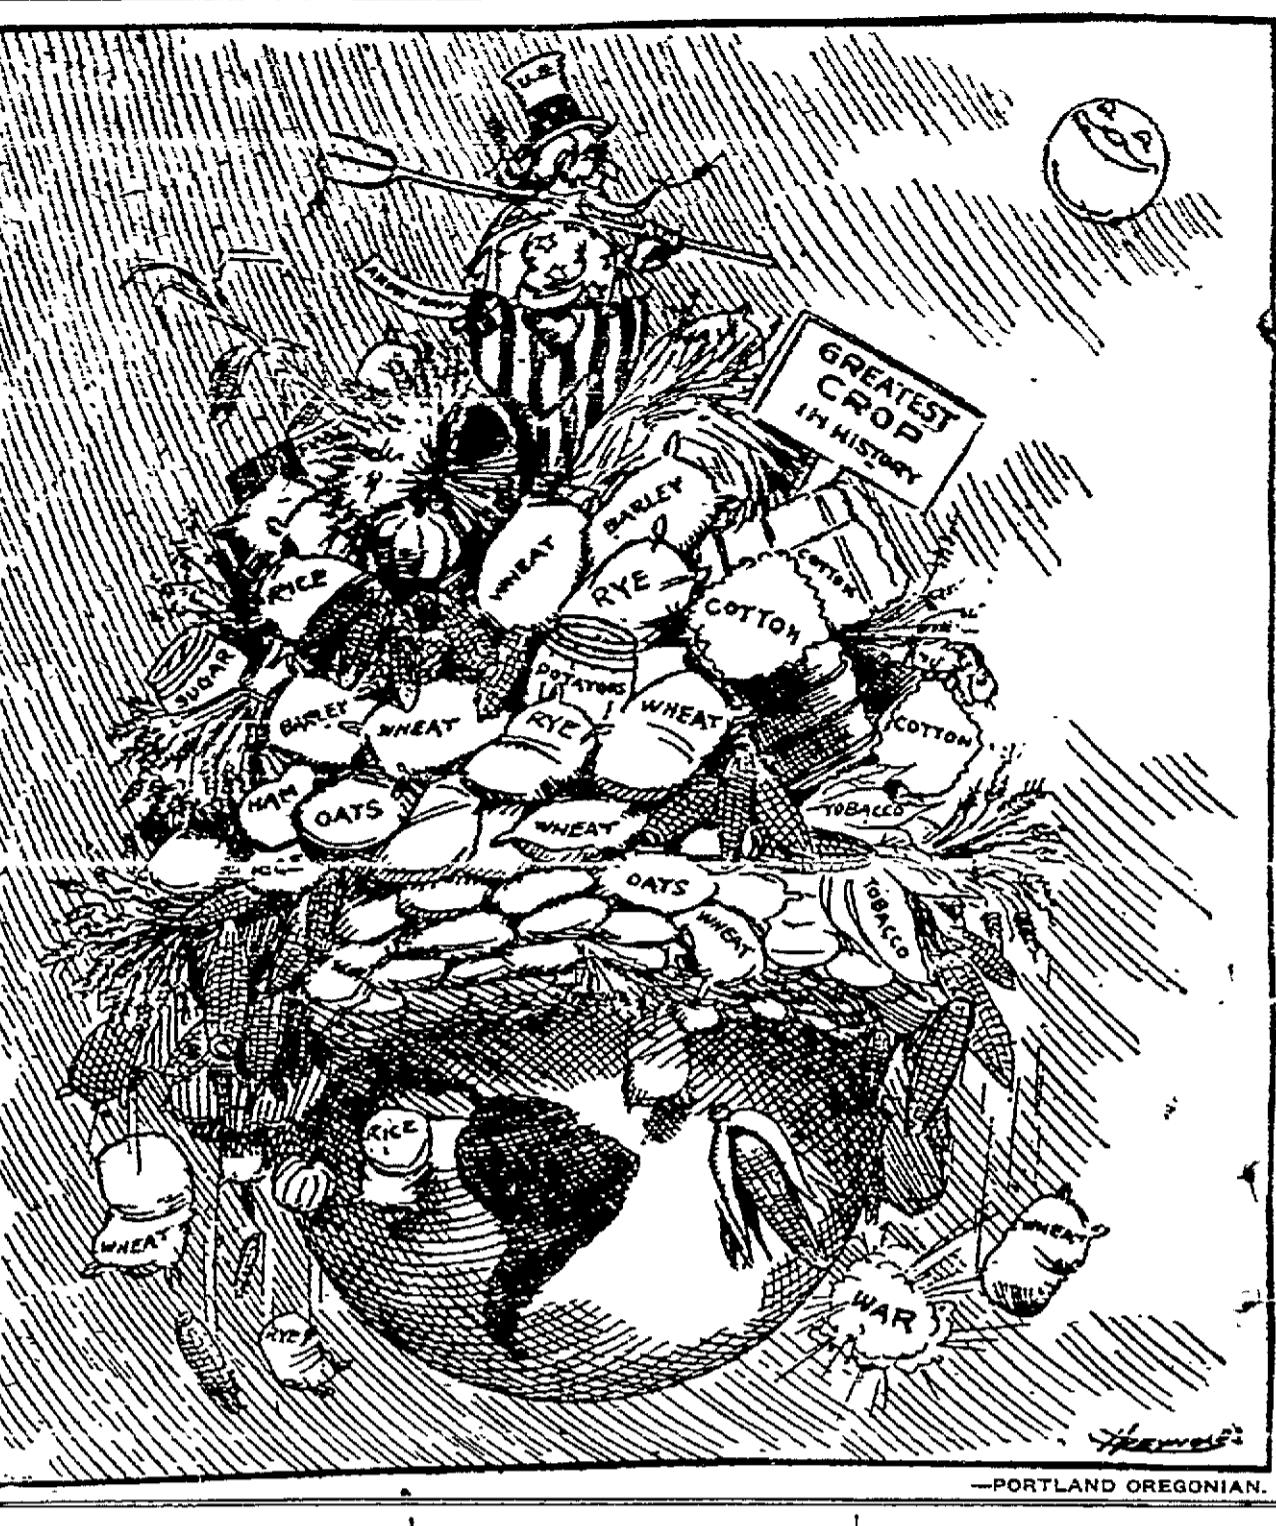

"I went into the hotel restaurant the evening of my arrival, to order dinner. I ordered a simple enough dinner, according to taste, to Idaho standards—a dinner of clams, cold consomme, grilled brook trout, filet of beef with mushrooms, chicken à la broche and so on—yes, a simple enough Idaho dinner; but by jinks, they kept me waiting in the heat and noise and smells an unconscionable time. Unconscionable!"

"Finally I called the maitre d'hôtel and said: 'Is it the rule to tip the waiter here?'"

"Yes, sir," said the man. "Oh, yes, sir."

"Then," said I, "give me a good big tip. I've been waiting close on to three hours."

TOKYO FETES
ITS TEUTON
PRISONERSDefenders of Kiaochau Enter
City Like Triumphal Procession.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Banzai! Hoch der Japanes!

The expression isn't a bit more mixed than the sentiment of 140 German war prisoners in Tokyo, among them Edward Wickersham of San Francisco, captured at the fall of Kiaochau.

Writing to his brother, Eugene Wickersham of this city, declares their treatment as prisoners has left every man Jack in doubt whether they are prisoners of war or national pests.

Their entrance to Tokyo was like a triumphal procession, he declares. Women dressed them with smiles and beautiful flowers.

While they have kept their patriotism on straight, it has been subjected to a constant and tremendous strain of unshakable kindness, declares Wickersham.

He frankly avows that he would much prefer to be a war prisoner in Japan than fighting in the trenches of Kiaochau.

Eugene Wickersham reached 2200 Bryan street. His brother was captured with the others years ago, when the German peninsula in China fell before the assault of the Japanese army and navy.

"When we entered Tokyo, after losing out in Kiaochau, after three months in 'the trenches,' writes Wickersham, "we were given a reception the like of which we had hoped or expected to see."

Instead of being jeered and humiliated, we were met on our entry by hundreds of Japanese women, including the nobility and leaders in social and diplomatic circles. These women presented each German soldier with a large bouquet to which a note was pinned, extending to us a welcome and the assurance of sympathy for our plight.

HAVE ALL COMFORTS.

"From that day on we had many surprises. The Japanese soldiers, citizens and officials seemed bent on making our enforced stay in Tokyo a pleasant one.

Visitors were allowed to call on us in the Japanese houses, where we were given the best food, and among the first symptoms of illness among my comrades the best physicians and surgeons of Tokyo were sent to administer treatment.

"We have all comforts, but a bed, and sleeping on the floor, as in the custom in Japan, was the only thing we had a hard time to get accustomed to.

"Our quarters are warm and comfortable. We have to observe military regulations, hours, but are not forced to do any work, excepting two hours' exercise each day.

Wickersham was born in Alsace-Lorraine, and was attached to the German garrison at Kiaochau. His company of 140 men was in the trenches at that city for thirty days, from August 21, 1914, without leaving. At the end of the three months' siege the company had lost 100 killed, wounded and taken prisoner.

He says in his letter, that after the war is over he will come to San Francisco to make his home.

Martha Washington's Will Finally RestoredBy Associated Press.
FAIRFAX COURTHOUSE, Va., Oct. 18.—Martha Washington's will which was taken from the courthouse here by a Union Trooper during one of the battles of Bull Run and later found its way into the collection of the late J. P. Morgan, was returned to the county archives today with elaborate ceremonies.

Recently the state of Virginia sued J. P. Morgan in the Supreme Court of the United States to recover the historic document. Morgan suggested that it be placed in Mount Vernon. Fairfax county, however, claimed it as part of their court records, and today it was restored to its place beside the will of General Washington.

The case against Morgan will be dropped.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Wilson will open his campaign for his national defense program in a speech before the Manhattan Association in New York on the evening of November 4. It will be the President's first public utterance on the subject since he approved the plans prepared by Secretary Garrison and Secretary Daniels, and the speech is expected to be of significance because the President is expected to disclose the reasons he will urge upon Congress why the United States should be more adequately prepared for defense.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—On the statement of the Southern Pacific Company that a new schedule of rates would be prepared and would be available November 5, the railroad commissioners today continued the hearing on the complaint of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce in connection with lumber rates in California. The complaint was made against both the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Samuel H. Dyott, a land salesman and a man of means, who is at the St. Francis Hospital with a dangerous bullet wound in his abdomen, will not prosecute his former wife, Melcena, who shot him in the office of Attorney George Appell in the Phelan building yesterday afternoon. After Dr. W. W. Waymire and Dr. B. S. Stevens had examined Dyott this morning the information was given out that he would undoubtedly recover, and that he was showing remarkable vitality for one so grievously injured. Attorney Appell, Dyott's legal counsel, declared that he believed the conspirators had been hatched to bring Dyott to San Francisco, and while he would not go so far as to say that the man had been lured here in order that he might be shot down, he revealed several mysterious circumstances in connection with his coming.

"Nevertheless, I am going to advise Mr. Dyott this afternoon that he decline to prosecute his former wife," declared Appell. "It seems certain that he will recover, and there is no reason why he should want to sue Mrs. Dyott to prison." A California jury seldom convicts a woman, and it would seem to be useless to prosecute if Dyott gets on his feet again."

Appell denied the story that it was Mrs. Dyott who had sent for her husband to come to San Francisco, asserting that he had sent the telegram, believing that he was doing so at the request of Dyott's clients.

EXPLAINS SITUATION.

"In order that there may be no misapprehension regarding Dyott's coming, I will explain the situation and straighten out some of the tangled skeins in the story," said Appell. "Dyott was shot as a broker in the sale of the Devonshire apartment by Miss Edna Weatherbee to C. H. Corr. I received a telephone message from a Miss Sommers, whom I know to be Corr's manager. At least, the person talking to me said she was Miss Sommers. She declared that Corr wanted to consult Dyott on a radiator deal if I could have him here. I said I would let her know. I telephoned Dyott. He replied that he would leave on Saturday night's train. I telephoned Miss Sommers' apartment, informed the person who was there that I would have Dyott in my office at 10:30 Sunday. I thought I was talking to Miss Sommers. It must have been Mrs. Dyott. Undoubtedly she was in Miss Sommers' apartment. I will not say she was in league with Miss Sommers, but I cannot account for her being there and intercepting the message. All this talk of Dyott's having two wives is foolish. I believe he married Miss Weatherbee as he says and that he was in Los Angeles with her. Mrs. Dyott, of course, was divorced from him. She is a good woman and that is one reason why Dyott will not prosecute her. There is the whole story in a nutshell."

Attorney George Lippman has forbidden Mrs. Dyott to talk, and at first she would make no statement when seen at the city prison this morning. She is being held pending the outcome of her former husband's inquiry.

Horses Burned to Death in $5000 Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Fire in the stable of the Toscano Baking Company, 811 San Jose avenue, caused the death of two horses and the destruction of a ton of hay early this morning, the building being totally gutted by the flames. As soon as the blaze was discovered lodgers in the rooming house of Mrs. L. Clark at 55 Thirteenth street, adjoining, were aroused by the police and to the number of twenty-five took refuge in the street, without taking time to dress.

The flames licked their way to the hotel, a two-story frame structure, causing damage to the amount of $500 and filling the corridors and rooms with smoke. The total loss will approximate $5000. Two alarms were turned in. The Toscano Baking Company is operated by F. Micheletti, who declared that he had no insurance on his stock or animals.

New Haven Trials Are Begun Before JurorsBy Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The jurors chose to try William Rockefellers, Lewis Case, Ledyard, Edward D. Robbins, and eight other directors or former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, charged with conspiracy to monopolize interstate commerce under the Sherman law, took their seats in the Federal court today to hear the opening address of E. L. Batts, attorney for the government.

Batts planned to outline the case in chronological order, beginning in 1890, the date of the formation of the Sherman law and tracing the various transactions under which formerly independent railroads, trolley lines and steamship companies in New England were brought into the New Haven fold.

In his opening statement Batts said that the jury would be asked to consider the methods by which the alleged unlawful acts of the New Haven were done, as well as the acts themselves. He declared he wanted to make it clear that there was no suggestion intended by the government that the independent parts of the New Haven should be returned to their original status, as the combination of these parts was not necessarily unlawful.

Sisters at Orphanage
Plan Reunion

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Out at the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum in the Bay View district, the sisters are planning a reconciliation on the part of a husband and wife today, through the agency of a 14-month-old girl.

Mrs. J. T. Heims of Stockton, mother of the child, communicated with the orphanage by telephone this morning, asking if her babe would be turned over to her if she called for it. She said she was weak and prostrate from worry over the separation from her child who was taken from her when she was last Monday. The sisters told her that they could not deliver the baby to any one but the father, who had left her in their keeping, but that the mother might visit and spend the day with the infant.

"I will be out as soon as I can get dressed," Mrs. Heims told the Mother Superior, telephoning from her room at the Panama Hotel. Heims is also expected to visit the asylum today, and the sisters expect to unite the units of the little family.

It was because he thought his wife had become addicted to the cigarette habit that Heims snatched the child from her and left his home on Monday.

SCHOLARSHIP ENDOWED BY
BONNHEIM$100,000 Memorial Fund to Maintain Young Men and Women at U. C.UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA,
Oct. 18.—That a scholarship endowment, estimated to be worth more than $100,000, has just been given to the regents of the University of California, to constitute the Joseph Bonnheim memorial fund, for the maintenance of scholarships for young men and women in the University of California, was announced today by the regents.

A reception committee was named to meet the Edison party at the Oakland pier. The party includes the inventor and Mrs. Edison, Miss Grace Miller, Mrs. Edison's sister, and "Billy Bee," the inventor's private secretary. The committee follows:

John A. Briton (chairman), Governor Hiram W. Johnson, Mayor Jas. Rolph Jr., Mortimer Fleischacker, Dr. Thomas Addison, William T. Sessions, Helen Robinson of Colorado, Lt. Governor W. M. Moore of Kansas and Henry J. Allen of Wichita, Kas. and Dr. Anna Howard Shaw president of the National Association. Financial aid has been given, it is said, by Mrs. George J. Gould of Lakewood.

Conference to End
Strike Is ResumedBy Associated Press.
EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 18.—The conference between Arizona copper mine managers and a committee representing their strike employees, was resumed today. It was expected that the question of reemployment of miners laid off between September 1 and September 15, the day the strike was called, would occupy most of the day's deliberations.

It was not expected that the wage demands of the employees would be reached today. These demands include a minimum of $2.50 to surface workers and a minimum of $3 for underground men. Both these figures are on a basis of copper selling at 13 cents or less. A sliding scale is provided when the price of the metal advances. Copper is now above 17 cents.

Now, in order that the undertaking may be insured the permanence and the continuance of wise management which administration by the regents of the University of California guarantees, the founders and the trustees have united in conveying the endowment of the fund to the trusteeship of the regents of the university.

The principal is to be kept intact. The income is to be expended by the regents in assisting worthy boys and girls in their education at the University of California, with a view to making them self-supporting as rapidly as possible. The scholarship benefits to any one person are not to be less than $20 nor more than $400 per annum. These scholarships are to be awarded without distinction as to sex, race, color, nationality or religion. Preference is to be given to boys and girls between the ages of 16 and 19 years old, but distinction can be given after that age if in the judgment of the regents this is "necessary to make the beneficiary self-supporting."

"By 'education,'" says the deed of trust, "I mean education in its broadest sense, having in view such preparation and training as will make the beneficiary self-sustaining by whatsoever trade, profession or calling may seem best adapted for such purpose in each case."

For a number of years past, also, Mr. Bonnheim has offered at the University of California every reader the Bonnheim essay prize, for essays and public discussions on ethical problems. These contests have been a great factor in the development among the students of skill in public speaking and intelligent study and discussion of the problems of personal conduct in private life and in public affairs.

I will also sell the books.

NON-PARTY ISSUE TO BE LAID BARE

Prominent Speakers Will Address Joint Mass Meeting on October 21.

Samuel M. Shorridge, Senator John R. Carlson, and several other speakers will address Oakland's voters when introduced by Victor H. McNeil, former secretary of the navy, under President Roosevelt, they will appear at the Oakland Auditorium in the new big campaign meeting here against the so-called non-partisan law. This is to take place at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium next Thursday night, October 21. The meeting is under the joint auspices of all political parties.

The big mass meeting will place the issues involved in the "Non-Partisan" bill squarely before the people, not as a party matter but as a matter in which all parties are really interested. The meeting was arranged by a joint committee representing the Republicans and Democrats in Alameda county.

The campaign meeting is the result of several meetings of special committees named by the county committees to arrange the matter. The speakers were chosen as the representative men of their parties, and every party's viewpoint will be heard on the matter.

A picture published in a local newspaper is the cause of two girl friends separated from each other for several years, meeting in Oakland. The girls are Miss Jewel Estes and Miss Dorothy Morgan. MISS BRISSAC IN NEW TRIUMPH VAUDEVILLE BILLS BRILLIANT

VIRGINIA BRISSAC's versatility has been the chief factor in her success. She is a creature of the stage, born to it, and she has had the best training. She is a character actress, and there have been few like her. Her latest effort, "Three Weeks," has been shown another time to the public, and the audience has responded. Miss Brissac's part in "Bought and Paid For" is certain to be the best she has ever done. She has been greatly appreciated last night, when at the Mandrake, she scored one of the biggest successes of the season. Of course, she had the play, but the real secret of her success is that she has had Novice Jack Kent and John Wray, but better than all her art, Miss Brissac, as Virginia Blaine, offers a combination of grace and beauty in the work of the part. The road company seen in Oakland, John Wray and Frank Cravers are about a tie in the part of Jimmy. Both are good, but different. Wray is more compact than Cravers, and is better in the comedy scenes. On the whole, the audience saw the management's boast made good when it was declared that the production would appeal to the people, not as a party matter but as a matter in which all parties are really interested. The meeting was arranged by a joint committee representing the Republicans and Democrats in Alameda county.

The campaign meeting is the result of several meetings of special committees named by the county committees to arrange the matter. The speakers were chosen as the representative men of their parties, and every party's viewpoint will be heard on the matter.

OPHEUM

Those who like the very best in music have great treat awaiting them this week at the Orpheum, and those who like nightime's syncopated measures have another, for this week's bill essentially one of music, designed for all sorts and conditions of theatergoers. The classical music is rendered by a violinist second to none, perhaps, in the world, and a singer whose name is too well known to need introduction. The ragtime is rendered principally by a couple of clever fellows in burnt cork, although many of the other acts use it as a garnish.

Eustace Landon, wonderful master of the voice, has his audience spellbound with his melodies. He played classical records yesterday, and several other selections made up his repertoire. He answered several questions.

Schubert, composer, and Clarence Parker were the hit of the night, with a audience's judgment, answering half a dozen questions and "Stoppage the Show" with a bang.

The State Navarre Girls, a women's orchestra, renders a number of striking numbers, ending with a lively "Avalanche Hall," a collection of trained simians. James Kelly and Blanche Leighton offer a few vaudeville types, and The Aurora, a company of Spanish girls, in which Beatrix Dupont is a striking bit.

A fine travelogue rounds out the bill.

PANTAGES

"Little Miss U. S. A." one of the liveliest comedy features in years, is a screaming success at the Pantages on one of the best all-star bills of this season. The little operetta is replete with broad farce, and the girls are some of the most perfect variations of a Cohen comedy offered in vaudeville.

Ober and Dumont offer the other big feature of the bill. In their wonderful combination of Song and Dance, the queer, dreamy music, exotic dances and wonderful scenic and light effects make a gorgeous ensemble. Lady Letty, "The Gypsy With a Personality," is another big hit. This simian is declared by scientists to show every evidence of real human thought.

Padden and Read offer a laughable act in black and white, Tom Kennedy and Ethel Karpoff offer a clever comedy, and Willard Karpoff is seen in a clever acrobatic act and exclusive motion pictures round out the bill.

Encore after encore rewarded the South American dancers and the singers of the orchestra yesterday, and the old-time comedians scored one of the biggest hits of an act of this type on the Pantages circuit.

FRANKLIN

J. M. Barrie's "The Little Minister," which, under the title of "The Little Gypsy," was given its first presentation at the Franklin yesterday, in one of the most brilliant performances, especially appealing of any of the seven plays so far presented by William Fox.

Among the many spectacular scenes in the production, the scene showing the building of a large fort, the building of a house specially constructed for the purpose at a cost of $20,000, and the terrible havoc wrought by the devastating flood which followed. These scenes are among the most realistic ever staged for photo.

Dorothy Bernard, one of the most winsome and daintiest of dramatic stars, appears as Lady Babble, the part created and made famous by Maude Adams. Thurlow Bergen, one of the most popular actors on the stage, plays the role of Gavin Ditchart. The other interesting characters of the pieces are played by a well selected cast and in many of the big scenes hundreds of extra people are used.

A real comedy and a Heart-Salve news pictorial complete the bill, which will be shown again today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

OAKLAND PHOTO

Theatergoers have seen many "Zazies" from Nancy O'Neill to Pauline Frederick, and Frederick has proved the success of these all. The Zazie is on a white screen. The play in motion pictures, one of the biggest film hits of the year, was presented at the California Photo Theater for the first time yesterday, when the old-time comedians rounded up a clever company of artists, presented the play even more successfully than it has ever been presented on the legitimate stage.

The play is familiar to theatergoers as one of the greatest emotional dramas. The story is that of a music hall artist's romance with a young nobleman. They finally separate, after the singer has discovered that her lover is a married man, and when she appears again in the play she is separated from him.

Rodway and Kelly, "The Boys in Black" and Paul Draper, Harry Cohn, and Eddie Caldwell and Marjorie Storke, seen in a musical comedy tableau. Goodhue, the banjoist, another star feature.

A screening Charlie Chaplin film and several other "movie" attractions, the Gene Miller troupe of hoop-rollers, and a number of other special features are on the bill, which will run until the middle of the week, when the usual change is made.

HIPPODROME

Bessie Baron, pretty daughter of Frank Baron, star of "The Fortune Hunter" and cent star of "The Fortune Hunter" and old Liberty favorite, has followed her father's footsteps. She made her bow to her father's old friends in the theater where he scored his first success, and yesterday, when she appeared in the Hippodrome in "Her Wedding Day," her play is clever and she herself is an actress of ability.

Rodway and Kelly, "The Boys in Black" and Paul Draper, Harry Cohn, and Eddie Caldwell and Marjorie Storke, seen in a musical comedy tableau. Goodhue, the banjoist, another star feature.

FINAL CEREMONY OF INSTALLATION IS HELD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—In St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday the final act in the installation of the Most Rev. Edward J. Hanna as archbishop of the diocese of San Francisco was performed.

From the multitude thronging the main floor and balconies of the cathedral a hush arose as the archbishop knelt to receive the pallium—the mitering or blessings upon the local head of the church.

The conferring of the pallium upon Archbishop Hanna was attended by a pontifical high mass. The solemn ceremony commenced at 11 o'clock, and soon after the celebration of the mass began every pew was filled and worshippers were standing wherever room could be found in the building.

FIVE DIE IN FIRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Five persons were burned to death and three injured in a fire which swept through a five-story Third Avenue tenement on the upper East Side yesterday. The injured and remaining members of eight families were rescued by police and firemen. The fire started in a coal bin from a lighted candle.

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY

The Community Orchestra has announced a concert to be given under the direction of Herman Trutner on Friday evening, October 22, in the auditorium of the Oakland Technical High School, Broadway and Forty-second street. The musical body includes nearly forty players.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION.

It is certainly surprising that any woman will endure the miserable feelings caused by biliousness and constipation so easily. Mrs. Craig, of New York, N. Y., writes: "About a year ago I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tabaco and they cured me of biliousness and constipation. I now buy them at the Drug Store—Advertisement."

CHURCH OBSERVES

AUTOMOBILE DAY

Rev. Van Horn Tells of Part Invention Can Play in Human Uplift.

"Let every Sunday be automobile day and the auto trained to go to church. It will do good to the machine and it will do good to the man who runs it."

"The auto is waiting just as ready to be a means of grace as it is to be the surest way of sending a boy to hell."

"If we are to give our best to the Lord surely that will include the auto."

"The automobile has made this world war possible"—Rev. Francis J. Van Horn.

Automobile day was observed at the First Congregational church of this city yesterday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, talking on the part the automobile can play for the uplift of humanity. Recently Rev. Van Horn had noticed his congregation that church automobile day should be observed and he requested that the long years of work for equal suffrage no year has been so crowded with self-sacrificing labor for the cause as this, and no year so significant of suffrage as this year.

"As we enter this year, four great campaigns for equal suffrage are in progress in four eastern states, each with a long and arduous history.

"We shall come together at this our fourteenth annual convention, larger and more numerous than ever before, and more assured of early success for nation-wide suffrage than ever before. We urge our affiliated members to continue their efforts to reach the convention that we may learn from each other experiences, be inspired by the courage, the sympathy and counsel of our friends, and our mutual plans and work, and our mutual confidence reached in full and free conference as to their wisdom and efficiency."

"The National American Woman Suffrage Association, which is now governed by the vote of the representatives of all of its affiliated associations, will continue the work of the association chosen for the coming year."

"The convention, it is announced, will be held in the Hotel Statler, December 14-19, and is expected to draw several thousand visitors to Washington. The National Association expects big delegations from the campaign states, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

At the close of the meeting Dr. Van Horn spoke of the part the automobile played in the lives of the people.

He said: "The auto is the surest way of sending a boy to hell."

"If we are to give our best to the Lord surely that will include the auto."
